DARRELL GOLDMAN

BIOGRAPHY

Darrell Goldman grew up in Houston where he attended Katy-Taylor High School, followed by the prestigious Berklee College of Music in Boston. He now calls Austin, TX his home, along with his wife, Leslie, three kids, and Harley, the weenie dog.

Darrell's current album, The Bed I've Made, is a heartfelt project he wrote and produced himself. Darrell is not just some starry-eyed kid hoping to make it in the music biz. Instead, he's a seasoned, serious performer with a passion for songwriting and touching people's lives with music. It's "that magical something," he says, "that has a way of bringing people together like nothing else in the world. That's what I love."

Darrell's full life and complex thinking are reflected in many of his songs. The polished Country song, "Lookin' for Love," has an upbeat swing feel with a classic structure. His appreciation of faith and family are evident in "Hold On My Heart" and "In This Together". "Gypsy Rose", with its rockin' country vibe, was written for his daughter. The title track, "The Bed I've Made", is the album's standout cut, which is a song about the transitions of life. Darrell has released three singles from The Bed I've Made, which include "Gypsy Rose," and "Lookin' for Love".

"Lookin' for Love" came in at #124 in the top 200. "Gypsy Rose", "Lookin' for Love," and "Hold On My Heart" have all charted on the Texas Regional Radio Charts.

Thoughtful describes Darrell's approach to life and music. "It's taken time to figure out who I want to be as an artist. "Country is where my heart is." When asked what his autobiography would be entitled, "Endurance," he says, "Because my life has definitely been an endurance race, not a sprint." With nearly 200 shows a year, marriage and family, "It takes a lot to keep it together," says Darrell, "It's like constant training for a triathlon," of which he has participated in many - that also takes dedication, focus, and endurance, all character traits essential for a singer songwriter, too.

ON THE ROAD WITH DARRELL GOLDMAN

In an era of ever-morphing styles and sounds across today's Country music landscape, Darrell Goldman and his Austin, TX band are making their way around Texas playing as many honky-tonks, dance halls, bars, and other venues as they can. Venues include Crossroads Saloon & Steakhouse-Fredericksburg, Dance Across Texas-Austin, Coupland Dance Hall, Love and War in Texas-Grapevine & Plano, as well Redneck Country Club, Firehouse Saloon in Houston, Bo's Barn in Temple. The band has also played a multitude of festivals including Llano Crawfish Open, Jarrell Windfest, Magical Mason Festival, and the San Saba Pecan Jam.

Always wowing the crowd and winning new fans along the way, Darrell's style of Country speaks to classic Country enthusiasts, those who embrace the newer sounds of today's evolving modern Country genre, and even those who say they never really thought they liked Country music until they heard Darrell's style of Country. His smooth, rockin', classics-in-the-making originals, have prompted fans more than once to ask of his originals, "Now who was that last song by again?" Whether it's his own version of well-known favorites, or his own thoughtful originals, there's always something for everyone.

Ever the class act, these talented, consummate professionals can play up to four hours. A typical Darrell Goldman set would include nearly every song off his debut album, The Bed I've Made, in addition to an ever growing number of new, yet to be recorded, originals and other country music favorites from Strait, Rogers, Jackson, Haggard and Green, to name a few.
